WANTS THE EARTH.

RUSSIA INDICATES A FEW MORE DESIRABLE AFGHAN TOWNS.

Gladiators Give Notice That His Public Life Is Almost Done—News from the Northwest—Foundations of a Prison—Riot and Murder.

LONDON, May 10.—It is authoritatively announced that Russia demands that both Zoulikar and Maruchuk be considered as Russian territory. The answer has been withheld. The Russian government is in a position to consider the question of these places of vital importance in maintaining the integrity of its dominions.

A minister of colonies will probably be appointed soon by Russia. His duty will be to deal with the Russian colonies in Central Asia, which are of great and growing importance, and in regard to which diplomatic complications are constantly arising.

Another Embarrassment.

LONDON, May 10.—The government is considerably worried by Italy's demand that the agreement be fulfilled by which she was to garrison Red Sea ports when the British troops were withdrawn. Italy counted on gaining a valuable foothold in Africa for colonial purposes by this arrangement, and she is much chagrined at England's having turned back. As Mr. Gladstone was obliged to favor Turkey in the matter in order to gain the port's friendship in case of war with Russia, it is probable that he will ignore Italy's demands, but the situation is at least an embarrassing one.

The Morning Post claims to have information that Lord Curzon, viceroy of India, has written to the government, giving an alarming account of the effect produced upon the native Indian subjects by the yielding of the ministry to Russia's demands in regard to the Afghan frontier.

Mr. Curzon was much annoyed Monday in the house of commons by Lord Randolph Churchill's repeated interruptions of his reply to Sir Stafford Northcote's inquiry as to the status of the negotiations with Russia. He had replied to the question in a very decided manner, "the disposition shown by certain members of the house to treat the government's course in a purely factious spirit." He added that he spoke simply in the interest of the dignity of the house, and that he had no intention of one who was part of the future political conflicts was likely to be measured by weeks, not by years. It is inferred from this language that the premier contemplates resigning at the end of the present session.

Cunningham and Burton Sentenced.

LONDON, May 10.—The case of Cunningham and Burton came to a close Monday. All the arguments of counsel were completed Saturday, and as such as court opened Monday the judge delivered his charge to the jury. He was severe in his comments on the crime, and also upon the prisoners. United States Minister Pugh was in court during the delivery of the charge. The jury in a few minutes announced a verdict of guilty in both cases and the prisoners, when asked if they had anything to say, again declared that they had nothing to say. They were sentenced to penal servitude for life.

In sentencing the prisoners Justice Hawkins said they had been convicted of a crime, as bad, cruel and wicked as had ever occurred, and that he could not but be too well known to the public. He said that the question for his advisers could be intimidated by any such means. The humanity of these in charge of the prosecution alone prevented them from inflicting the punishment for high treason on the prisoners for which they would have forfeited their lives.

Both Cunningham and Burton maintained an apparent cheerful demeanor after their return to Newgate prison. They will not be kept in the same place. Extra guards are on duty at Newgate. Burton has gained twenty-eight pounds in weight, and Cunningham fourteen pounds since their arrest.

All the papers approve the sentence of Burton and Cunningham to life imprisonment, and express the hope and belief that the result of the trial will have a deterrent effect upon other dynamiters.

Spain Excited Over a French Land-Grab.

MADRID, May 10.—The excitement here over the seizure by France of settlements on the Gulf of Guinea, claimed by Spain, is intense. The government is preparing a protest against the action. The French government is operating by the Spanish Commercial society.

Gladiators and Kewell.

LONDON, May 10.—Mr. Gladstone has invited Mr. Russell Lowell to dine with him before returning to America.

POUNDMAN CAPTURED.

Col. Otter Fights Without Orders and Wins the Battle.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—Dispatches from Winnipeg state that Col. Otter on Sunday made an attack on Poundmaker, and after a severe battle captured him and took 120 prisoners. The battle was fought in Eagle hills, and Otter made the assault against orders. Twenty-one Canadians and nineteen Englishmen were killed. No trace of the tumbler taken by Poundmaker a week ago was found, and it is supposed they have been massacred.

Riot and Murder.

WINNIPEG, May 10.—Among the rebel papers captured at Batouche are the minutes of the rebel council's meetings, which show that the rebels are in a position to capture the city. The rebels are in a position to capture the city. The rebels are in a position to capture the city.

St. Joseph Clark Arrives from Winnipeg.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—St. Joseph Clark arrived from Winnipeg and met the rebels, saying that 200 soldiers were coming to join in the fight, and would give them all the weapons they wanted in the way of ceremony if they did not go back to their homes and abandon their weapons. Clark was taken to Batouche at the time, and on his return found his people all in arms and determined to plunder stores before the troops arrived. Clark expects to be hanged, and declares the greater part of his time to fasting and prayer.

A scout succeeded in finding where Dumont is hiding, twelve miles from Batouche, and by an Indian messenger asked him to surrender himself, promising him a full pardon. Dumont returned and would thought the scout was lying, but would think the matter over. He will probably surrender eventually, when he finds escape impossible. The scout believes that he was taken to Batouche at the time, and on his return found his people all in arms and determined to plunder stores before the troops arrived. Clark expects to be hanged, and declares the greater part of his time to fasting and prayer.

—Housekeepers in this locality who have removed their choice house-plants from the bay-window to the out door quarters, had a very narrow escape last night from losing them. The men return in good health, and somewhat tanned from the exposure to the hot southern sun.

—An alarm of fire was sounded at a quarter past three this afternoon, caused by a dense column of smoke issuing from the building owned by Alderman Ber. J. Daly, just east of the Commercial hotel, on West Milwaukee street. The department turned out in good time, and succeeded in confining the fire to the building in which it originated, with a loss to the building of about $500, covered by insurance with Charles Dalton & Son. The building was occupied by William Roberts, as a saloon. The fire originated in some unknown manner, in the rear part of the building, and had gained considerable headway before discovered. Roberts had no insurance on his stock or fixtures, which are a total loss.

—The funeral of the late Andrew B. Clark, whose death was announced in the Gazette of Saturday evening, was held at the home of his parents in the town of Harmony, at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, the Rev. J. McLaughlin, of the Scotch Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. D. B. Jackson, of Emerald Grove, conducted the sad and solemn services. The song service was beautifully rendered by Father Cheney, assisted by the Emerald Grove choir. The pall bearers were his school mates and associates—Messrs. Frank Wilcox, Robert J. Barnes, David Brown, Hugh Menzies, John Yarde and Willie Jackson. The young friends decorated the grave with evergreens and flowers, and a beautiful cross and wreath were placed by loving friends on the casket containing the form of the dear one whose spirit had gone before. A large concourse of friends met with the bereaved family at their home and extended to them what assistance they could in their hour of affliction and sorrow. Mr. and Mrs. David Clark and family have the deepest sympathy of their many friends and neighbors in this hour of their great bereavement.

Circuit Court Notes.

The jury in the case of McKee vs. the city of Janesville, dismissed yesterday afternoon. They stood two to two in favor of the city. The suit of Price and Downer, et al. which arose in Beloit, resulted in a verdict for the defendants. The case of H. S. Ames vs. Urban Gleason is on trial this afternoon. The plaintiff seeks to recover damages for the loss of a horse and buggy for which he holds the defendant responsible. Ames rented a horse and buggy to a young man named Kaiser, one Sunday last August, and Kaiser took a young lady out riding. On the Reed road south of the city they attempted to pass a horse and buggy driven by the defendant and claim that as they were nearly by, the defendant whipped up his horse and crowded them off the turnpike. Their rig went into the ditch, the horse breaking his neck and turning their buggy upside down on the occupants, who were slightly injured. The buggy was a total wreck.

The case of Bradley vs. Cramer is set for to-morrow.

OBITUARY.

ARCHIBALD WOODARD.

Among the many old settlers who have succumbed to the severities of a trying winter, is Archibald Woodard, Esq., of Allen's Grove, Walworth county.

Deceased was born in Hebron, Washington county, New York, April 23, 1813; he first came to Wisconsin in the month of September, 1839. After entering land in the town of Sharon, Walworth county, he went back to New York. In May 1840, he came west again, and remained until the fall of 1841. Then he revisited his old home, and during his sojourn there was married to Mary F. Herron, of Hebron, N. Y., on the 26th of May, 1842.

Accompanied by his now bereaved wife, he returned to Wisconsin, in September, 1844, and settled in the town of Bradford, Rock county. It was in the spring of 1855 that he came to Allen's Grove, where he has since lived with the exception of one year, 1864, which was spent at Appleton, Wis. There the family sustained a severe loss by the death of their beloved daughter, Emily, at the age of twenty years. For several years after her coming to Allen's Grove, he successfully conducted the business of a general store and also throughout the whole term of his residence there, gave considerable attention to real estate and monetary transactions. His health had been failing for several years, but he was active almost to the day of his death. An old throat difficulty was renewed by a hard cold, and terminated his life on Sunday morning, May 10. Mr. Woodard was a Christian gentleman, respected and beloved by all acquainted with him. For nearly thirty years he was a faithful member of the M. E. church. He was a shrewd, business man, and in dealing with his fellow men, was honest, upright and true, strictly adhering to principles of right. He made his way in the world, and became a wealthy man. He was sound in judgment, cautious in giving advice, and a man of few words, but what he said was reliable and to the point. His loss is keenly felt, for his circumstances, attainment and character were such as to render him indispensable to the community in which he lived. The elements so mixed in him, that nature might stand up and say to the world, "this was a man." He leaves a wife and one son, Archibald Woodard, to mourn his departure.

The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, May 14th, and was attended by a large number of people. The arrangements were skillfully planned, and admirably carried out. Rev. C. D. Pillsbury, an old and warm friend, preached the funeral sermon, and his services by several Methodist ministers of the district.

He may go out to-morrow, possibly, if the weather permits. His throat continues very sore."

"JOSIAH."

[Editorial Messenger.]

I never kin forgot the day
That you went out a-walking,
And sat down on the river bank,
And kept on hours a-talking;
Ho twined up an apron string
And said in a whisper
"I'll sell it to you for a dollar."
"Twas curious kind of weather,
The sun went down as we sat there;
Josiah seemed uneasy,
And said who began to call:
"Lewwellyn! O Lewwellyn!"
And then Josiah spoke right up
As I was just a-sitting;
"I want to buy that apron string,
For it's a good deal better than the use
Of 'two over part'!"

It kind of took me by surprise,
And I knew 'twas coming;
I'd heard it all the summer long
In every wild bee humming;
I'd studied out the way I'd act,
But I was just a-sitting;
I meant to buy that apron string,
But seems as if he knew it;
In looking down into my eyes
He must have seen the fire,
And I was sure that how I've loved
I've wrapped my Josiah.

THE WIZARD EDISON.

He is Harnessing New Electrical Thoughts to Practical Work.

[Credit in New York World.]

I found Mr. Edison last week in his laboratory at Avenue B, and asked him what was the newest thought that he had hatched to master. "This," he answered, and called my attention to a board hanging by one edge to ropes above our heads, its surface covered with tinfoil.

In further explanation he said: "That solves the question of telegraphing to running trains. As soon as that little device is adopted every moving train in the country will become a telegraphic station, and anybody aboard, the train may be telegraphed to as easily as if it was standing still. This will not be done by putting up a new set of wires, under the train or at its side, but by using the ordinary telegraph now running by the side of the track. It is a way, and a hitherto unknown, process of induction, by which I make electricity jump thirty-five feet through the air, carrying the message without spilling it. How's that for lively?"

The inventor's face glowed with pleasure as he talked in this way. "By putting up this tinfoil-covered board longwise on the top of each car I can catch a message from the wire strung on poles thirty-five feet off, and can find an answer back to the wire. It requires change in the wires of any sort. The secret of it is in the machine for transmitting. When I was investigating what I called the 'electric force' a few years ago I accidentally discovered certain curious properties of static electricity. These I have now applied."

"The process is very inexpensive, as three miles could equip a road 300 miles long for $1,000 in three or four days. It seems certain that the question will be solved, so that every train will be run from headquarters and every passenger will be accessible to his friends. What do I call it? I haven't named the baby yet."

—The acquaintances of Warren Tomkins, of Albany, who died so suddenly at the state university last Wednesday, were shocked to hear of his death. While in school here he became quite well known to the community and in the respect of all. The remains passed through here Thursday in charge of a number of his classmates. His uncle, Agent Tomkins, and a number of the family attended the funeral, accompanying the remains from Albany.
